Subject: Re: SERVICE OF COURT DOCUMENTS | TGP Communications, LLC v. Sellers, et al. | District of Arizona

Mr. Liddy,

Our process server was turned away by security and told to "Call to make an appointment"

It may surprise you to hear that those calls are not being returned.

I would normally say this shouldn't matter, as the Defendants are aware of the proceedings and the hearing. However, I do not wish to leave anything to chance. If your clients are still barring you from accepting service, and they insist on being served in person, but they won't allow service to occur, I guess my only option is a motion for alternate service, which we are writing right now.

I am, however, reaching out to meet and confer with you on this matter prior to filing such a motion.

Are you willing to reconsider accepting service, or are you in a position to inform your clients that if they insist on being served by appointment, they should schedule that appointment before we file our motion?

Mr. Liddy,

We are aware that you prefer service to be done at that address. We are honoring your request. However, given the short time frame, we are also sending you documents by email. We would prefer to prevail in this matter on the merits, and not because you were delayed in your ability to receive and review documents.

We also believe that as a matter of courtesy and professionalism, that we should minimize any delay in delivering information to you. If we didn't provide it to you this way, you might not have notice of the hearing until after it has been concluded.

If it is your sincere request that we not provide you documents quickly and efficiently by email (in addition to mailing them or having them served by process server) please make that clear.

As I understand it, the recorder and the board of supervisors were formally served yesterday. We were directed by the clerk at the Board of Supervisors to serve the remaining defendants at a different address (not the one you provided), and that should happen today. So, if you would like to enter your appearance in the case, that would certainly streamline things.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Mr. Liddy,

Thank you for reaching out to us by telephone. We confirm receipt of your message and your confirmation of representation of the defendants.

Our prior and only email to the parties is included below. We will cease any direct contact with the Defendants pursuant to your request.

We are still awaiting processing of the filing by the Clerk's office. In other words, the documents have been submitted for filing, but no judge has been assigned and no case number has assigned. We will update you once that has happened.

Please let us know if you are willing to accept service on behalf of the Defendants or direct us to where we can make personal service on a person authorized to accept service. If you are willing to accept service, we will send over the formal request and waiver. For the purpose of Plaintiffs' request for emergency injunctive relief, please confirm receipt of the attached documents.

We would, of course, be willing to open a line of communication between your office and ours in order to obviate the need for court intervention. If you would like to arrange a call, our team is copied on this email and we would be happy to set something up.

Thank you,

Subject: SERVICE OF COURT DOCUMENTS | TGP Communications, LLC v. Sellers, et al. | District of Arizona

Dear Sir or Madam,

This firm represents TGP Communications, LLC and Jordan Conradson. We have initiated a lawsuit against you which has been filed in the United States District Court for the District of Arizona. Plaintiffs are seeking emergency temporary relief. Copies of the pleadings and papers are attached as they have been submitted to the Court.

Please forward these documents to any attorney that may be representing you in this action and ask that they reach out to our firm as soon as possible.

The documents are pending processing by the Clerk's office, and a case number has not yet been assigned. Our office will forward that information to you or your attorney once that has been completed.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
